Executive Summary-1

- 2H 2019 DPU increased by 2.5% year-on-year to \$1,725, marking seven consecutive years of DPU growth (\rightarrow P3) • Top performing J-REIT in terms of DPU growth when compared to the broader J-REIT sector and peer group (\rightarrow P4) • The acquisition of 18 domestic hotels in July for ¥82.6 billion, provided further portfolio diversity and established INV as having the largest hotel portfolio among J-REITs (\rightarrow P5, 6) Combined and simulated NOI for the overall domestic and overseas portfolio of 2H 2019 declined by 7.5% year-on-year mainly due to the prolonged trade and diplomatic dispute between Japan and South Korea as well as the large typhoons in this period (\rightarrow P32) Overall RevPAR declined by 4.3% due to the reasons above, however the Cayman hotels exceeded expectations (+4.9%) year-on-year) (\rightarrow P34, 38) 2019 2H Results INV's proactive asset management via asset recycling, selling two residential assets at a 3.4% NOI yield and acquiring two hotels at a 5.8% NOI yield in January 2020, increased overall portfolio NOI by ¥624 million per year, without issuing & new equity $(\rightarrow P7)$ Recent Major • INV sold Winbell Kagurazaka in December for ¥5,135 million at a 3.5% NOI yield, and recorded a ¥1,970 million gain Accomplishments on sale (\rightarrow P7) • INV sold City House Tokyo Shinbashi in January 2020 for ¥4,465 million at a 3.2% NOI yield, and recorded a ¥2,038 million gain on sale (\rightarrow P7) • The two hotels acquired (Hotel MyStays Premier Narita and Art Hotel Morioka) are both in submarkets with limited or no new supply and growing tourism (\rightarrow P9, 10, 12) ■ INV now has 79.8% of its domestic hotels in the top 10 inbound destinations and 51.7% of its overall hotels are classified as full service or resort (as of February 20, 2020) (\rightarrow P13, 14)
 - Increased retained earnings to ¥12.7 billion (¥2,090 per unit) from ¥11.6 billion at the end of 1H 2019 which will provide further financial cushion to insure a DPU floor of ¥3,400 (→P7, 15)
 - JCR upgraded the credit rating of INV to A+ / Stable from A / Positive on February 4, 2020 (→P41)

Cayman Westin Expansion (→P17 - 22)	 INV is close to finalizing plans and approvals to build a new Annex (the "Westin Expansion"), creating a net 189 new rooms, taking advantage of the hotels prime location on Seven Mile Beach as well as the increase in travel demand to the Cayman Islands Updated projections show construction costs of approximately US$150-160 million and an estimated stabilized NOI yield of mid to high teens, which is very accretive to INV's dividends in the future Once we complete the due diligence and approvals from relevant authorities are obtained, the construction on the Westin Expansion is expected to commence in early 2021 with a target completion in the summer of 2023 Since the Westin Expansion will cause partial business interruption impacting revenue between 2020 and 2023, INV now believes it will take longer than the original plan to achieve DPU of ¥3,700 INV management reiterates its DPU floor of ¥3,400 using retained earnings if required
2020 Full Year Forecast	 Full year DPU forecast of ¥3,459, a 2.3% increase over 2019 DPU, expecting to achieve eighth consecutive years of DPU growth (→P3) Overall, 2020 is projected to have a modest annual RevPAR growth of 0.4% for the domestic hotel portfolio (→P37) The corona virus has resulted in many cancelations in February and there should be a negative effect, although it is still early to tell INV believes that the residential portfolio will continue to achieve stable growth in 2020, and NOI is expected to grow by 0.5% year-on-year (→P33) Hotel development in Japan is expected to peak in 2020 and the total potential future supply showed the first decline in five years while elevated tourism demand can be expected even after 2020 Tokyo Olympics (→P23 - 29)

JCR's announcement Rationale on Feb. 4, 2020 News Release (Excerpt) • • • INV continuously replaces its assets and seeks opportunities for external growing including public offerings. While its asset size is expanding, further diversification is in progress especially in area s and types of hotel assets. Other than presenting stable operation of the entire portfolio including the occupancy rates, JCR is able to track its generally stable performance from the operation indicators of hotels, which include the postacquisition performance of two overseas hotels. In the hotel assets, INV stilly heavily relies on the hotel management company for the operation of hotel assets, JCR sees that INV's portfolio has become more resistant to relevant risks and likelihood of securing stable cash flow has increased given the good track record of portfolio management based on the strong cooperative relationship with its sponsor group. JCR also sees that INV's management flexibility has increased by expanding retained earnings and there is no particular concern over its financial standing. Based on the above, JCR upgraded the rating on INV one
